Funding for Abandoned or Unused Well Decommissioning

Authors: Sarah Tranberg, Agri-Environmental Program Coordinator, WUQWATR, Regina
Rachel Kraynick, P.Ag.- Agriculture Program Specialist, Yorkton

The Farm and Ranch Water Infrastructure Program (FRWIP) is a program offered under the Canadian Agriculture Partnership (CAP), which provides producers funding to decommission abandoned or unused wells. This program is available to agriculture producers, First Nations, Rural Municipalities and agri-businesses.

If you are a landowner in a RM, but do not earn farm income, the RM can apply on your behalf to the program to decommission wells on your property. This program covers 90% of the eligible costs to properly decommission wells throughout rural Saskatchewan.

There are several reasons why abandoned and unused wells should be decommissioned. All water wells provide a direct pathway from the surface to the aquifer. When a well is no longer in use, or is not being properly maintained, rodents, snakes and debris can fall into the abandon well and cause groundwater contamination. Abandoned and unused wells are also a safety concern for people and animals.

Eligible activities for decommissioning wells include:

- Excavation (removing casing),
- Bentonite and chlorine,
- Gravel or clay (must be third party purchase)
- Costs related to well decommissioning including sealing and capping water wells by a registered well driller.

Pre-approval is required for all well decommissioning activities.

- Large diameter well decommissionings require a FRWIP Pre-Approval Application and Well Decommissioning Worksheet
- Small diameter well decommissionings require a FRWIP Pre-Approval Application, and work must be completed by a Registered Driller
- All well decommissioning must comply with Water Security Agency (WSA) recommended practices

Applicants are encouraged to contact an Agri-Environmental Technical Service (AETS) provider for assistance in completing the applications and pre-approval worksheets. In the Wascana & Upper Qu'Appelle Watersheds, Sarah Tranberg is the AETS contact. Technicians will work one-on-one with producers to assist in applying to the program and filling out your pre-approval worksheets. To read more on decommissioning wells visit www.wsask.ca.

For more information on FRWIP or other CAP programs, contact WUQWATR's Agri-Environmental Program Coordinator, Sarah Tranberg, at 306-529-5125 or sarah@wuqwatr.ca

A Message from the RM of Edenwold

School days are here again

A reminder for drivers to take extra care as excited kids are heading back to school. The speed limit is 30 km/hr in school zones. On rural roads: stop no closer than five metres (15 ft.) from the front or back of the bus. Do not pass the bus until you've checked for children and the bus driver turns off the flashing red stop lamps and deactivates the stop arm.

For those 'newly minted' drivers excited to drive to high school, a friendly reminder that our Community Safety Officers patrol in the area as do members of the White Butte RCMP detachment; tickets can be expensive and result in lost points from your license.

Miracle Treat Day was celebrated by RM staff on August 8 by making a stop at Dairy Queen Emerald Park. A portion of proceeds from each BLIZZARD treat sold goes to local Children's Miracle Network member hospitals.

Movie night in the park

The RM of Edenwold hosted its first outdoor movie night at the Emerald Park soccer facility in the recently dedicated Kuzmich Commemorative Park. The night was a great success. The canteen was hosted by the White City Dancing School.

OCP and Zoning Bylaw

Keep an eye on the Planning section of the RM website for updates regarding the new Official Community Plan and Zoning Bylaw. The Planning Department has been busy working on integrating comments received from citizens and stakeholders through the open houses and other communications.

Image from the outdoor movie night, hosted August 2 at the Emerald Park soccer facility. Thanks to everyone who attended and shared in the magic of a special evening.
